SIXTH DISTRICT COURT.

JULY TERM.—HON. F. W. COLE, PRESIDING.

The Sixth District Court met yesterday, pursuant to adjournment, and transacted the following business:

Molinelli vs. Spinks; judgment for plaintiff. Ten days stay granted to defendant.

J. Stewart vs. J. McAvoy; continued till August 7th.

Wm. Arrington vs. J. W. Ellyson, et al.; defendant allowed until August 5th in which to file answer.

State vs. Nick Wolf; bill ignored by the Grand Jury.

State vs. M. Norton; true bill of burglary.

PROBABLY DROWNED.—A gentleman who came in from the westward yesterday afternoon states that he is pretty certain that an Italian footman was swept away in one of the canyons in that direction. The gentleman alluded to was on horseback. A short distance in advance of him he saw the footman in water three feet deep, trying to cross the gulch. He thought but little of it at the time and turned to look in another direction. A moment later the footman was not to be seen at all, and he is satisfied that he was swept away. The name of the missing man is not known, though our informant is pretty certain that he was an Italian coalburner.

THE GRAND JURY.—Below we give the members of the Grand Jury for the term. T. J. Maupin, J. R. Cole, J. S. Moore, J. C. Harmon, W. H. Clark, J. C. Brown, S. Goldstone, J. E. Plater, Wm. Gillen, C. C. Carpenter, H. A. Thompson, T. J. White, F. Abadie, M. B. Bartlett, Clay Simms, J. M. Smith, Luther Clark.

Indictment found against Mike Norton; bail fixed at $3,000.

Nick Wolf, bill ignored and defendant discharged.

BURNT OUT.—Malcomb McDonald, who used to live in this town and own the quarry east of the SENTINEL office, got scorched in San Francisco Sunday last. He was one of the principal owners of the Frear stone manufactory, the buildings of which were destroyed as aforesaid.

FOR RECORDER.—Gay Dawley, of Ruby Valley, is announced in the Independent as a candidate for Recorder of Elko county. Gay is a good boy, and he has a host of old friends in Eureka who will pull for him to make the trip.

POLICE COURT.—Joseph Capricol was arrested for assault with intent to kill Paul Seemren. He was held to bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance for examination to-morrow at 10 o'clock, A. M.

PERSONAL.—Dr. S. G. Moore, of Belmont, left on this morning's train for the East. He goes to join his wife, with whom he will return to Belmont in a few weeks.

YESTERDAY'S SCARE!

A Forebode Reminder of the Terrible Calamity of Two Years Ago.

"To the Hills! To the Hills, Away!"

A Good Deal of Water and Some Damage.

Eureka was, on the 24th of July, 1874, the scene of a terrible calamity. Fourteen lives were lost and $200,000 worth of property were destroyed by what was then termed a cloud-burst, but which has since been demonstrated to have been nothing more than an unusually heavy rain storm. A repetition of that ever memorable event was for a time threatened yesterday, and the most singular part is that it should have come on the same date and within a very few minutes of the same hour.

At a quarter to one o'clock yesterday the Richmond whistle sounded the alarm, and soon horsemen and persons on foot were dashing in all directions, warning the people to flee from the approaching danger.

The State of the Case.

As it afterwards turned out, was considerably exaggerated, but there was nevertheless good reason to believe the result of the great rush of waters might be fully as disastrous as was the flood of '74. The people living along the canyon, which was swept out before, terror-stricken, made for the hills to the eastward and westward, most of them taking with them such articles as they could hastily gather before abandoning their homes.

The Wildest Excitement

Prevailed for an hour or more, and the situation was at one time very bilious. Fortunately, the canyon was not so badly obstructed with buildings, etc., as before, and still better, there was less water than on the previous occasion, though quite sufficient for all practical purposes. Good judges estimate that there was not more than half as much as swept down at the time of the other burst. It is proper to state, however, that there are some persons in the upper portion of town who claim that there was no discernable difference. The big canal, constructed since the other flood, along Spring street north of Bateman, did splendid service, and doubtless prevented the flooding of many buildings.

The "Big Ditch."

As it is called, demonstrated a capacity for twice the amount of water that came down yesterday. Indeed, we hardly think it was much over one-third full at the height of the storm. Both above and below the canal, however, where the water was allowed to spread out many houses and cellars were flooded, resulting in great inconvenience, if not serious loss.

The Losses.

Geo. Lamoureux sustained a loss of about $1,000. His stables were badly used up and some hay and grain washed off. The basement of Odd Fellows' Hall got a three foot dose, but the water was tapped and made its escape in a few hours. Jesse Bigelow estimates the damage to his hall at $300. Six inches of sediment was deposited all over the floor of the building. The bakery, just above the hall was also flooded. Mr. Aikens, in the same neighborhood, lost quite heavily in lumber, which went down with the tide. Some other persons may have been inconvenienced, but none, we believe, lost to any great extent. The members of the Hook and Ladder Company, with their usual promptness, did good service with their hooks in keeping the ditch clear of lumber and rubbish.

At Ruby Hill

There was quite as much water as here, the same passing off into Spring valley. Johnny Lambert lost $1,000 in damage to goods. Both his store and dwelling came near going, but owing to the timely assistance of a party of miners, who improvised a dam to turn the water, this was prevented. Had these buildings made a start others would have been sure to have followed. Electricity cut many capers about the Richmond works on the north side of the hill. All of the iron work seemed surcharged with the subtle fluid, and two men were knocked down by taking hold of the iron cage. Bill Davis was one of the parties thus treated, and at latest accounts last evening his arms were still paralyzed. Forty inches poured down the shaft of the Eureka Consolidated for a time, and it was only by the most strenuous efforts that the stream was diverted. As it was, no particular damage was done. We are indebted to our friend Lucifer for the foregoing facts concerning the flood on the hill.

The Main Stream

That came this way was from Goodwin canyon. From R. P. McDaniel, who was at the head of that canyon when the storm commenced, we learn that hostilities were opened with a terrific hail storm. Mr. McDaniel retreated into the incline of his claim, but a large amount of water and rocks soon drove him out. He says it was no cloud-burst but merely a heavy hail and rain storm.

The Hamburg Mine

Was also the scene of much water. A stream came rushing down against the boarding-house four feet deep by two feet wide. It was with the greatest difficulty that the building was saved. No damage was done to the mine.

The Flood at Diamond.

Sunday night, about 9 o'clock, a flood occurred in a canyon five miles north of Diamond City. There were thirteen Chinese wood-choppers encamped in the bed of the canyon. Seven of them got out at once and six rolled and tumbled with the surging waves down to the valley below. One of the Johns was washed two miles. He was somewhat bruised and cut, and may possibly die. The others all escaped without injury. There was also a rumor to the effect that twenty-five Italian coalburners, in the next canyon, had been swept away, but this proved to have been unfounded, as indeed did many other rumors set afloat in the excitement of yesterday. All in all, it can not be denied that the people of this section got off remarkably well, and we risk nothing in saying that they are thankful accordingly. We are indebted to Mr. Murphy, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, for latest particulars regarding the Diamond disaster.

TRYING ON THE NERVES.—Cloud-bursts and rumors of cloud-bursts are especially trying on the nerves of the ladies of Eureka. Most of them are ready to pack their trunks and start for the high mountains simultaneously with the first sprinkle of rain. Regularly hereafter we shall expect them to withdraw to the summit of the Diamond range just as often as the 24th of July rolls around. The 24th is a fated day in Eureka for all time.

ON TOP.—J. S. Whitton was on top yesterday. It was he who bossed the construction of the big ditch. That same big ditch has been much maligned for the last two years past, but when it behaved so handsomely yesterday Whitton's forethought and wisdom in getting it constructed was universally commended. The writer also has some stock in that canal.

THE FLOOD ON THE RAILROAD.—Sunday night, at about 9 o'clock, a freight train, consisting of 13 cars, run into a wash-out on the Central Pacific railroad near Fort Halleck. There was a general smash-up, but so far as we are advised no lives were lost. Owing to the demoralization of the wires, however, we were unable to get details.

NOT A DROP.—It was noticeable yesterday that not a drop of water came down the gulches leading into the main Eureka canyon from the eastward. Two years ago most of these blind gulches carried large bodies of water. All of this goes to prove that the main "burst" was further to the westward.

A RUMOR.—There was a rumor on the street last evening that Uncle Jimmy Dunn, with a six-horse team, had been lost in the Diamond city flood. As the rumor went, both man and horses were all drowned. The story, however, is probably untrue, as parties from down that way knew nothing of the occurrence.

FIVE YEARS.—Wm. McCleary, who attempted the commission of a rape in Pine valley, has just been sentenced by Judge Plack, of Elko, to five years in the State Prison. He was convicted and sentenced once before, but got a new trial when Beatty's struck jury law was declared unconstitutional, and now goes back for a second time.

NOT INJURED.—There was a report in town yesterday that Coleman's ranch had been seriously damaged by the flood in that section Sunday night. The story was without foundation, as the flood occurred several miles north of that place.

NO DAMAGE.—We learn by inquiry at headquarters that no damage was done to the Eureka and Palisade railroad by yesterday's storm. The train from the West arrived last night on time.

MYSTERIOUS.—A McGeary bachelor, turning up in the Hot Springs register as Mr. So-and-so and wife, has caused no little comment on the Base Range during the last few days.

A LONG TEAM.—Two wagons loaded with mahogany wood and drawn by 15 span of cattle, passed up Main street yesterday. The said team was 100 yards long from tip to tip.

NO PERFORMANCE.—Owing to the storm, Professor Andress did not perform at Bigelow's Hall last night. He will appear to-night, however, rain or shine.

ESCAPED.—Secret canyon and other points to the southward escaped the flood yesterday. Two years ago the burst was as severe over that way as on this side.

DEEP WATER.—A horseman who came in soon after the flood yesterday reported six feet of water in some of the ravines of Spring valley. No damage, however, is reported in that quarter.

THE HOUR OF MEETING.—The Grand Jury will meet this morning at 10 o'clock. It was the intention to have had a meeting yesterday afternoon, but the cloud-burst scare rendered it impossible.

FROM THE BLACK HILLS.—A discouraging letter from the Black Hills will appear in to-morrow's SENTINEL. It was crowded out of this issue by the cloud-burst.

NATIONAL GUARD MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the National Guard next Friday evening. See notice under the head of "New To Do."

AT THE CENTENNIAL.—P. Smith, of Eureka, Nevada, was registered at Philadelphia on the 12th inst.

NEW GOODS.—The largest stock of Swiss mules, Victoria lawn, Bisha's lawn and Jackknives, just arrived at O. Dunkel & Co., from New York. Our entire stock of clothing is for sale.

SPECIAL.—An entire new stock just received at the Golden Rule, embracing the latest styles in calico, Cheviot and woolen shirts, summer underwear, etc., which will be sold CHEAP FOR CASH.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO LET.—A suite of two rooms, handsomely furnished, in a private boarding-house. Apply at Mrs. EENES, on Spring street.
